RETALIATORY MEASURES .- The steamer Cat aboula arrived at Memphis from below on the 22d, from the expedition retaliating on the neighborhood where she was fired into from below, opposite President's Island, a few dayngo. A number of houses, negro cottages and plantation buildings were buraed. It was the impression of those on the boat that the old "Duke's" place, where Mr. Apperson, of Memphis, is lying sick at his home, waspared. Among the places destroyed was Armstrong's. Mr. Armstrong was away. Mrs Armstrong and the furni ure were conveyed, by the lady's request, over the river; every u'tention was shown to her that the circumstances admitted of. Three men were brought prisoners on the Catahonla; when the boa reacted Memphis they were left by the guard ame ashore. The Bulletin learns from a palitnry officer who was present that the burning of Mr. Armstrong's place was not intended; it was done from accident or mistake. FATAL ACCIDENT .- Adam Miller, a worthy citizen, was shot and mortally wounded on Monday evening in the vicinity of Spring Garden, by a member of the German Rifle Club. The club were engaged at target shooting, and Mr. Miller chancing to pass the target, and being unobserved, received a rifle call in his side. The wounded man died last

Correspondence of the Louisville Journal ! IN AND ABOUT PADUCAIL Paduean, Oct. 24, 1862.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, OUTOBER 29, 1862.

I sometimes become so stirred up by read ng the newspapers, particularly the Louis ille Journal, a paper which I always ad mired and have happily always agreed with and by the events and circumstances by which am surrounded, that, like the noct Burn who, when much roused and excited by an thing, had to let himself off in poetry, I hav o let myself off in militant prose.

Things here continue in statu quo. Course our town and country have partake to a greater or less extent of the excitement of the excitement of the State, consequent the south, the reprint forces of Keri buckner, Marshall, and Breckharidge, of the fumous bogns "Southern Confederary, the Julius-like, have bariered off their cour who, Julus-like, have bartered off their country for less than thirty pieces of silver; and now either have to be fugitives on a foreign soil, or whenever they get into the State have to come in the character of invaders of their own country, and have their rebel carcasses well gaurded to prevent falling into the hands of Uncle Sam's marshals or troops! Humphrey Marshall, though a Marshall himself, is desertedly affaid of marshals when it has the aitials U.S. by way of prefix to it. Poor Tumphrey! No doubt he has long ago reconted of forsaking the good old Union, not clumphrey! No doubt he has long ago re-bented of forsaking the good old Union, of in sackeloth and ashee? but in gunnowde and bad whisky. Well, "as he has made hi-bed so let him lie." Like drowning men catching at straws, they seize upon every liftle circumstance, every trilling admission and iacidental expression, and dwell upon thank magnify it to the atmost, in or heir desperate cause! Every few days the nost absurd and groundless rumors are put in firculation. A week of two ago a report came brough rebel sources that there were one hundred and fifty thousand Federal soldiers killed at the battle of Antichum—a good deal more han McClellan's whole army—and that their bodies lay so thick they could be walked upon vithout louching the ground for the distance of nine miles! A few days ago we heard that here was a rebel force of seven thousand at durray, the county town of Calloway, about therray, the county town of Calloway, about orty miles distrut, and in a day or two that here was not a single rebel soldier there. Thus these runners succeed each other like the aves of the sea—one passing away to giv acc to another still larger and more preposerous. And the rebels here, claiming to be men of intelligence, too, greedily gulp down these rumors, such is their gullibihly, like coung birds that swallow down everything oning brids (that Swindw down everything last is poked into their mouths!

It is equally amusing to hear these rebels on be raid; of Lee into Maryland—"my Maryland," as Longstreet culled it in his proclatation—and of Kirby Smith into Kentucky. ed by the rebels here, that the programme of we was to invade Maryland, get possession of the State, and then carry the war into the fre y invading Pennsylvania and takin lphia, Bultimore, etc., and would hav inia; and the programme of Kirby Smith energetic preparations to meet him. Depend upon it, it is al alse about its spreading consternation among er; and are no more alarmed at or intimidated by it than they would be by the shootin red by it than they would be by the shooting of piper bullets out of a pop-gun at them? These "proclamations" remind me of a circumstance that once occurred at P———, Tenn. The judge was holding court, and at the opening of it told the deputy sheriff to make proclamation (to proclam the opening of the court). The deputy being a new and green hand at the business, went to the court. reen hand at the business, went to the cour-ionse door and exclaimed at the top of hi-oice: "Make proclamation! -make proclam tion! WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1862.

Typognarnical Ergor .- In our article in the ourual of yesterday upon Gea. Buell, one sentence reads thus: "It muy be said that it was their business (Buell's and Crittenden's) to know when a battle was raging only two miles off." It should have been a few miles.

The intelligence from Washington is that a general movement has at last begun on the part of the army of the Potomae. At the same time information comes, that the weather and the roads, which till now have been in the highest degree favorable, have suddenly become most inpropitious. So the news i parlly good and partly not so.

But we have confidence in McClellan and his army. Certainly he is not faster than nnother distinguished General who has just been relieved from service for imputed slowness, but we believe that he knows his duty and will perform it, and that his vust army is in all respects worthy of his gallant and skilful leadership. We may now expect very soon eithe a terrible conflict between the two mightiest ar mies ever arrayed against each other upon this continent or the retreat of one of them to Richmond or still further South. We are not prepared to predict a battle and a Federal vie ory, but we are entirely prepared to say, that if the rebel hosts shall risk an encounter and the immediate result shall correspond with our anticipatious, the happy and triumphan close of the war will be in full view before the eyes of the whole nation and of all the world

Nothing could be more shameful than the manner in which the correspondents of the Cincianati papers slander Gen. Buell in connection with the late battle at Chaplin Hills. A long letter purporting to be from an army officer, published in the Gazette of Mon day, is a series of falsehoods and slanders from beginning to end. The writer says:

But two brigades were sent to McCook's help out of thirty thousand troops lying the whole day searcely out of sight of the enemy's gans, while Gen. Mitchel, whose gans companied the betteries the second se gans, white Gen. Mitchel, whose gans commanded the batteries that were galling McCook, was repeatedly ordered to fall back, and was threatened with arrest unless he obeyed. Gen Schoopff, whose division lay close at hand, actually begged to be allowed to go to McCook's assistance, and was refused. The gallant calling themsel agrees with toors is bit.

very much like them before. But there is not word of truth in what is thus said. It is that "Gen. Mitchel, whose guns commanded the batteries that were galling McCook, was repeatedly ordered to fall back and was threatened with arrest maless be obeyed". This the Government is conditional on loyalty and number of the Gazette in which the seandalou respondent insists that "Mitchel was ordere and the threat. He does not say that they were issued by Buell, yet he would have the public think so. Buell however sent no order or message to Mitchel, and, as 5 P. M. that a battle was going on, no information of it having been communicated to him tears in his eyes because he was refused" is an preferred his tearful but vain entreaty to b llowed to go to McCook's assistunce? Did he prefer it to Geu. Buell, who did not know ntil nearly snaset that a battle was raging and who then seutveinforcements as promptly as possible? If not to Gen. Buell, then to whom pray?

The slanderers of Gen. Bnell have undoubt elly earried their point for the present, but they und their employers may yet mourn their success in bitterness and tears.

what general policy the rebels will adopt corded to them.

They first tried the defensive policy, which failed, and, disgusted with that, they a length tried the offensive policy, which has failed also. We do not see very clearly what which, by every obligation that can sway or he will accomplish but little good, either for enjoin accountable beings, they ought to have dopted at first and pursued to the last. Then If it hurts his feelings to pay a legal tax, i we should have been to-day, as we were at the outset of the rebellion, a peaceful and united people, with the rights of every State and of every individual in fall and vigorous preser-

But, alns! this wise, safe, and obligatory policy was spurned at first by the rebels, and now, after wasting millions of treasure and rivers of blood, they must embrace it at last or still reject it with the certainty of cubrang it nevertheless after they shall have expended fresh millions of treasure and poured out fresh rivers of blood. This is a solemn trnth which the rebels cannot ponder too elemnly. It is the business of our armies to drive this truth home upon the rebels.

We agree on this point with the New York Evening Post. "The defeats formerly suffered by the rebels in the West, when aeting upon their old policy of defence," says on entemporary, "led Mr. Davis to remark in his naugural address, that even then they had undertaken too much. What course then re mains? An offensive policy is undertaking too much, and, according to the highest authority in the Confederacy, the same is tru of a defensive policy. The only fair inferaking too much in any case. As soon a he Southern people become impressed with hi truth-and there are many facts which end to make this impression prevalent-th ebellion will come to an end. How soon this an be brought about depends upon our armies in the field, and upon the faithful, persevering efforts of Generals who, like Rosecruns, are quick to gain an advantage, and relentless in usuing it to its utmost coasequences."

Unquestionably this is the just view of the a e. We hope it-will be acted upoa, intelligently and energetically, in the field, in the mium, and gold will not abinet in the columns of the press, on the platform, ia the marl, at the ballot-box, and wherever else a loyal son of the Republic may ind himself in a situation to strike for the bonor and salvation of his country.

for hi the pending draft were for a feast intrad of a fight, how few would claim to be gether.

The rebels need not suppose that their government, simply because it is "in a fix," is to the people of that State, which has the peoulater that there was "but one General" singularly ill fortune to be refuted and couted in the army of the Southwest "whose hand by the leading journal of the party. The fact are nutainted by cotton speculations," and affords a very cheering glimpse at the con- upon this it based an article wondering how dition of politics in the Old Bay State.

following averment: and, thus proves to be untrue:

It was not necessary that the State committee should falsify history in the effort to prove that the Republious leaders made any honest attempt last year to form a minor with all parties in sustaining the government and the war. They know very well that the Republican State committee who was a good the late Republican Convention was a good by every Convention which they point to as a proof onvention which they point to as a prinat they made an honest attempt at union of them. We are ashan we are asmanded of them. We life asmanded that a body of men with whose principles we have always sympathized, and with whom, it former years, we have considered it an hono to act, should be driven by any circumstance to such dishonorable subterfages. They know fectly well that they never intended that Republican organization in Massachusett. the Republican organization in Massachusetts should die, and what is the use in preteading otherwise? Why resort to a dodge like this when a straightforward course would be better, and conviction of falsehood is so easy? The abbress is simply an attempt to cover up the essential disloyalty of the Worcester Convention, and to spoil the capital that other parties are making out of it.

arties are making out of it. Of the manifesto as a whole the Republican peaks as follows: Its appearance at this moment is a confession alike of guilt, weakness, and alarm. We were really prepared for nothing of the kind, because we supposed that the committee regarded the game as in their own hands. It would be a task painfully disgusting to us to point out the slippery sophistries and miserable evasions of this document. Let us simply ask the question why such a document as this was necessary? There was a fine chance t every essential thing said here at the presser convention, but it was not said The Worcester convention had other business on hand. It could not even mention the President's name. There was but one name worthy of mention at Worcester, and around that gathered all the interest. There vas no unqualified devotion to the govern nent declared at Worcester, so there mus needs come a supplement from the alarmee State Committee, and here we have it. The difference in the spirit of the Republican and Democratic conventions did not amount to enough to be noticeable. The Republicans had the decency of silence to recommend them to be supplementations of the committee of the state of the to be sure, but there is not a member of the state committee who does not know that th President was not indorsed, simply becaus his policy at that time was condemned, an because they intended that their devotion t the government should be conditional. "That what's the matter." That was what was the natter at the summer meeting at Fanen

When we reflect that the journal which thu speaks is as we have said the most influential Republican journal in New Empland, and moreover, that it sustains nominally nt least the State tickel of the party with the fanati cal Andrew at the head, we may form som rough estimate of the spirit which in th pending struggle animates or exacimates the better class of the Republicaas of Massachi setts who still adhere at all to their party in the hands of the redicels; and we may form too, some rough augury of the result of the struggle, which, as it seems to us at this dis tance, must be a glorious victory for the con servative or People's party. We cannot well uderstand how any other result is possible We have heard these things or something Happily no other is probable.

> 197 General Sam. Jones, lately placed by ebel authority in command of the Henart meat of East Tennessee, has just issued au address to the citizens of that section, is which he says:

bedience to that Government.

This is the principle adopted and acted or upon the condition of his legalty and obeion citizens here in Kentucky are doing everything in their power to effect the estabshment of rebel swny among us-to bring about a state of affairs in which no person, male or female, not avowing loyalty and rendering obedience to the Confed erate Government at Richmond shall b we have said, did not even know till held entitled to Government protection. And yet these resident rebels, thus jutent upon the destruction of all right and claim on the par of the friends of the Federal Government t enjoy the privileges of citizens, to enjoy even most dismal and horrible outery at the alleged cruelty and ntrocious barbarity of the bar suggestion that they themselves should not it the meanwhile receive from the Federal Gor ernment, against which they are warring, al the protection due to the truest loyalty and th most faithful obedience. We would not that our friends should do wrong because they suffer wrong. But rebel insolence and presumption are absolutely inolerable. Our rebels cannot have the elfrontery to pretend that they and their frieads, if they were to come into power here, would extend to us for a single day the protection which they themselves now claim as a right from the We are somewhat at a loss to know Federal Government, and which is freely ac-

19 The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce says Judge Merrick, the Union States Judge for the Dis trict of Columbia, has protested against paying the income tax on his salary. The Judge would be more manly for him to retire from the service of his country altogether.

Mrs. Swisshelm says that she writes for her paper "on the table beside the unwashe breakfast dishes; in the interval of making dough, moulding it into loaves, hearing the oven, putting it ia, keeping up the fire, and watching and turning the pans." We should have guessed as much.

Many of our army officers are un doubtedly political aspirants. But, to prove themselves fit for civil stations, they needn't prove themselves unfit for military ones.

Gov. Wise is still talking about "Old John Brown." He hasn't got half of old Brown's sense, but, if we catch him, he may have all of old Brown's last seasations.

This paragraph was a article about two thirds of a column in length and the charge was as sweeping as words could make it, that all the Generals but one we obnoxions to its grave complaint. The words were not, "many of our officers," but "our officers' tiken as a body, and the World referred to the "Generals, Colonels, and Captains" ia our armies of the Southwest. The World now says:

ta reply to this, we have to say that the World's allegations louched the fair fame of every officer above the rank of subaltera, with but one exception, and therefore we repelled it as an net of justice to Kentuckians in the service. We do not know of "many instances of such speculation;" we know of one, the in stance of Maj. Gen. Having mentioned General Mitchel as lu uishing the only instance of "such specula tion' within our knowledge, we perhap night as well subjoin the following documen ry testimony on the point: Lorisville, July 9, 1882. I am a citizen of Athens, Ala., and wi I am a citizen of Athens, Ala., and was there when cotton was seized at the rebel for-tifications at Swan Lake, one mile from Tennessee River. The cotton, though lying at Athens, was sold at Huntsville, by order-of Gen. O. M. Mitchel, and purchased by a man mamed — Clarke, at three cents per pound. For this cotton 1 offered Gen. Mitchel seven cents per pound in gold, but he refused to let me have it. 1 offered seven cents a pound for said cotton to said Mitchel on the day of sale and prior to the purchase Thereof' by said and prior to the purchase Thereof' by sale of prior to the purchase thereof by said

After this, there had been left from the sam rtification some cotton which had been use erein, and which was floating in the rive herein, and which was Boating in the river notion or hanging about the trees. This I offered to gather and deliver in good order, at luntsville or Athens, for one half, or I would only five cents a pound or $000 in gold for the ot. This I offered in writing to said Mitchel, which he would not answer. I then saw him, and he said I could not lave it.

The Southern Confederacy, published t Atlanta, Georgia, on the 8th of January 861, used the following strong language in eference to the election which had just been eld in that State for members of a disunion

It is a notable fact, that wherever the "Mi nte Men," as they are called, have had an organization, those counties have voted by larg amzatoh, those controls have voted by har injorities for immediate secession. Tho hat they could not control by personasion as oaxing, they dragooned and bullied by threat eers, and sneers. By this means thousands cool citizens were induced to vote the sece ion ticket through timidity. Besides, the owns and cities have been flooded with seaso on despatches and inflammatory rmnon nanufactured in Washington for the especi ccasion. To be candid, there never has be s much lying and bullying practised in the odom and Gomorrah as has been in the r eat State campaign.

The Hou. A. J. Hamilton, of Texas, in a reent speech at Brooklyn, New York, showed ow the traitors at the South had corrupted and poisoned the public mind before the rebel States were dragged out of the Union, and he trongly declared that a majorily of the Southrn people are even yet favorable to the Union

URGENT NECESSITIES OF SICK SOLUTERS FOR PREPARED FOOO .- At a regular meeting of the Sanitary Commission, held last night, the Government officials presented the present des titution of means for preparing food for over two thousand sick and wounded soldiers who have just arrived. A vast number of sick and wounded are coming into the city, over one thousand having reached here last night, and nll the hospitals are crowded and overflowing and the new huildings just taken by the Gov crnment are not yet fitted for the sick, excepfor mere shelter. It must take a number o days to fit up these houses for cooking for the sick, and the Sanitary Commission earnestly call upon the loyal of this city to prepare to day soup, corn-bread, stewed fruit, and other articles for proper food, and send them to the Sanitary Rooms ou Fifth street, between Market and Main, by I o'clock, and every day nt the same time, until notified of the ability o the Government to meet this destitution and distress among our worthy soldiers. Le no one of our citizens be forgetful of the fact that these are some of the men who saved Lonisville from rebel devastation. We urgently and enruestly beseech all who can to contribute to the wants of these two thousand sick and wounded soldiers. The Government is doing all that energy, zeal, and recognition of daty can enable it to do, but cooking apparatus for all these new hospitals cannot b put up in one day, for the preparation of lood for over two thousand new arrivals. May no the Sanitary Commission, which has never yet appealed in vain to the loyal women and citizens of Louisville, confidently rely upor amplo supplies of cooked food for every one of these sick soldiers. The Sanitary Com mission have means on hand for the imme diate transportation and distribution of al the supplies sent to the rooms for the suffering soldiers who have faithfully served the Government and the people. Let no one hesitate nor be apathetic on this all-important subject Patriotism, humanity, and christiauity alike plead for thoroughness in this work. No matter how large the supplies may be that are sent to the Sanitary rooms, the Sanitary Com mission can distribute them usefully to the SAFETY OF NASHVILLE,-We are happy to learn from the Nashville Union that the ar prehensions expressed by us as to the safety of that eity are not shared by its authorities. 1 says to place Forrest's roving band and the troops at Murfreesboro at three thousand al together, is a very liberal estimate, and if the rescals will only stand still, we can thrash them to death any day. They have fled in gloriously on the approach of our troops in very instance for the last three months. The Union learns that there is to be a mustering of conscripts at Murfreesboro on the 10th o next month, which will doubtless greatly swell their numbers, but not to the extent to excite the least apprehension as to the safety of the place. At the same time it regards it as of the utmost importance that large force should be thrown through that region immediately, for the purpose o driving all the rebel troops ont of Middle Tennessee. Chattanooga should be captured withont delay, and East Tennessee liberated from rebel sway. We want, says the Union, to see this noble State redeemed from the traitors we have hundreds of Union refugees in this city, who should be allowed to return to their homes. For these purposes, we regard it as of great importance that a large force should be sent, as quickly as possible, through here, t expel the rebel troops who are foraging und gathering provisions and winter supplies through all Middle Tennessee. Let not the Government neglect this important work any longer. To work, to work, to work!

THE INSTITUTION FOR THE BLIND,-We ar pained to learn that it is in contemplation to convert this beautiful and elegant edifice into a hospital for our sick soldiers. We respectfully ask our military authorities if there are not plenty of houses belonging to disloyal persons that will furnish accommodations for all our sick and wounded. If so, are they not in duty bound to take them, and protect the habitations of loval men? Ought they not a least to spare the home of the poor blind of our State? We can never acquiesce in the proposition to turn our unfortunate blind from the beantiful edifice crected for their use, unt the residence of every rebel in the city shall be applied to that purpose, and have been found

SICK AND WOUNDED SOLUIERS .- Very great additions have been ruade within the past twenty-four honrs to the number of sick and wounded soldiers in the hospitals of this city. About eleven hundred arrived by frain yesterday morning from Lebanon, and about one thousand were expected to arrive last night. In the emergency it has been necessary to take possession of additional buildings for hospital rposes, and many others will be seized im nediately and converted into apartments fo the accommodation of disabled soldiers.

DEFICIAL HISTORY OF THE BATTLE OF CHAP. battalions of the 18th regulars, under Major ITEADQUARTERS IST Corps,)

Col. Jas. B. Pry, Chof of Staff: I leave the honor to report that in compliance with written instructions from you, ilasted October 7, 8 P. M., and received by me at my camp at Maxville, at 2:30 A. M. on the morning of the 8th, I marched at 5 A. M. on the Perryville road. I had but a portion of the Perryville road. I had but a portion of the Perryville road. I had but a portion of the Perryville road. I had but a portion of the Perryville road. I had but a portion of the Perryville road. I had but a portion of Stedman's line until 9 P. M., when I rook to the left and found that the line there had been retired by theneral Rousseau. Believing that the enemy would renew the attack at daylight, I ordered him to throw his line back, with his left resting on the Maxville and Perryville road, and the line extending to the right on commanding ground to the left of Stedman's brigade. This movement was executed about 12 o'clork at night.

When Gen. Terrill's brigade gave why, a portion of his troops fell back with him to the position occupied by Stone's and Hush's baltered his attack them that day. Hearing reports of artitlery in the morning, our march I leave the honor to report that in compli-

Thus ends my account of the part taken by my corps in the battle of Chaplin Hills, the bloodiest battle of Chaplin Hills, the bloodiest battle of modern times, for the number of troops engaged on our side. Rousseau

At this time the right of Rousseau's line was also compelled to fall fack, to avoid being enveloped by the enemy.
